Governor Held Back Execution
Till 2 P. M. While Money
Was Being Produced, Then Made Stay Four Weeks.

CHICAGO, July 28. Johann Hoch, within the shadow of the gallows, was granted a reprieve by Gov. Deussen. The modern Bluebeard, charged with killing 14 of his 60 alleged wives, among whom was a St. Louis woman, and convicted of killing one, was saved from hanging at almost the last minute by a mysterious woman who appeared at the jail two hours before the time set for the execution, and said that money was available to take Hoch's case to the Supreme Court.

The mystery surrounding the woman was preserved all during the conference. She gave her name as Mrs. Wilson, but indicated that this was not her real name. She was accompanied by Dr. Montgomery, a Chicago Hoch sympathizer. For a time during the conference it looked as if her efforts to save Hoch must be futile.

Hoch's attorney emerged and announced that Dr. Montgomery and Mrs. Wilson had failed to convince the State's attorney that the woman would bring the money.

The lawyer for Hoch said, however, that a telephone message from an attorney known to Hoch's lawyer had been received stating that the sender of the message had $500 to give toward saving Hoch.

The offer was said to be on account of personal friendship for Hoch's attorney. Hoch's representative had replied that the money, to satisfy the State's attorney, had to be in cash, must be either in cash or a certified check. Covered with perspiration and breathless, the attorney mentioned by Hoch's lawyer arrived at the State's attorney's office in a short time and showed a bank check for $500. The State's attorney insisted that he ought to have the money, but promised that with that amount of cash he would recommend to the Governor that a reprieve be granted.

Hoch's attorney thereupon departed posthaste with the announced intention of cashing the check himself, calling up the Governor to state it.

Record Costs $1100.
The woman is said to be wealthy and professed to have become interested in the case from humanitarian motives only. She enlisted in her aid Dr. Linton H. Montgomery, one of the most prominent physicians in the city. Dr. Montgomery acted as her intermediary in the negotiations.

At 2 o'clock this morning Jailer Whitman was aroused from his sleep to answer a telephone call. Some person who refused to give his name at the time announced that he would appear at the jail at 10 a. m., prepared to furnish money, the lack of which it has been alleged prevented Hoch from completing the legal records required by the Illinois Supreme Court in case of all appeals.

The records cost $1100. Hoch had $100 and a conditional promise of $400 additional. Because no name was given on the telephone, Jailer Whitman attached little importance to the notification. But today at the hour named Dr. Montgomery, with Mrs. Wilson, appeared at the jail. Their talk with Whitman convinced him they were in earnest, and steps were at once taken for a new appeal to the Governor.

After Dr. Montgomery and Mrs. Wilson left the jail, State's Attorney Healy talked over the telephone with Gov. Deussen at Springfield. The Governor told the State's Attorney to make sure of the money and then to call the executive office again. The Governor thereupon instructed Sheriff Barrett to delay the execution until 1:30 p. m.

Mrs. Wilson said she stood ready to advance a portion of the money necessary to enable Hoch to carry his case to the Supreme Court, and that three persons had last night also agreed to advance a part of the sum necessary. Mrs. Wilson departed to see these men, and, if possible, to appeal to the Governor herself.

She was assured by the Jailer that he would delay the execution as long as possible in order to give Hoch the benefit of all possible appeals.

Meanwhile, Hoch, who had about given up hope, paced his cell nervously awaiting the outcome.

It was stated that Dr. Montgomery, in his effort to aid the woman, had publicly vouched for the production of the money and whatever assurance the Governor would require.

Dr. Montgomery and Mrs. Wilson left the jail together. Mrs. Wilson left the jail at 10 o'clock. Dr. Montgomery, who was interested in the case, she said, "solely because I think the man ought to have a chance—an equal chance."

Hoch slept soundly during the night, retiring about 10 o'clock. He awoke only once, in the morning about 3

HADLEY SUES TO REVOKE
DELMAR CLUB CHARTER

Quo Warranto Proceedings in Supreme Court to Confiscate Track, Allege Violation of Corporate Rights and State Laws—Says Minors' Wagers Were Accepted.

There will be no racing at Delmar Racetrack this afternoon. The closing of the track was determined upon at a meeting of members of the Delmar Jockey Club and its attorneys.

At that conference the attorneys advised that there is no way of stopping the daily raids by the police of the city.

Sam W. Adler of the firm of Cella, Adler & Tilles said today:

"We will close down today and remain closed until the Supreme Court, as a body, shall have passed on the questions that have been raised by the operation of the track in spite of the new law.

"Under the decision of Supreme Judge Marshall, the powers of the police are unlimited and a continuance of racing now would make it unsafe for patrons.

"We believe that the final word on the matter will be different from that of Judge Marshall. Our attorneys inform us that the police under the new police bill have absolutely no authority to invade the county and we feel sure that the Supreme Court will so decide eventually.

"When the Delmar meeting opened in the face of the new law we stated that our purpose was to test that law. Since then every move we have made has been with that purpose in view. We have acted under the advice of the best legal talent and have been careful.

"We wish the test of the recent act of the Legislature to be as thorough as possible, and to that end we have instructed all our employees to assist the authorities in every possible way in obtaining evidence."

Chief of Police Kiely could not be seen when Adler's determination to close the Delmar racetrack became known, but his subordinates at Four Courts said that arrangements had already been made for the police to visit Delmar racetrack this afternoon, and they knew nothing to prevent the carrying out of those plans.

CHIEF KIELY IS "DEELIGHTED"

Chief Kiely expressed himself as well satisfied. In fact, the Chief declared he was "de-light-ed." Said Chief Kiely:

"This is my first information that there will not be racing at Delmar today. Say, what did I tell you, anyhow. There's nothing to it. You know I have been saying there would be no racing after Saturday, and that they would be tired out by that time. I only missed it one day, that's all. The police pressure was too much for them, and they had to quit."

"GLAD OF IT" SAYS GOVERNOR

"I am glad of it," said Gov. Folk when told over the long-distance telephone that the Delmar track had been closed.

"The law has been vindicated," he added. "What has happened in the racetrack case should prove a lesson to others who dare to defy the laws of Missouri. A handful of men imagined they could override the Government itself. It was a good lesson they received, if a costly one."

SUIT TO REVOKE DELMAR CHARTER

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 28.—Quo warranto proceedings prepared by Attorney-General Hadley were filed in the Supreme Court this morning seeking to annul the charter of the Delmar Jockey Club.

If the proceedings are sustained all of the property of the Delmar Jockey Club will go to the State.

After quoting from the articles of incorporation of the club the purpose for which it was chartered, Attorney-General Hadley alleges that the Delmar club has "violated the laws of this State, and has grossly perverted, abused and misused its corporate authority, franchises and privileges;" that from Jan. 18, 1902, to June 16, 1905, said respondent, through its officers, agents and employees, conducted within the building known as the betting ring or shed on the Delmar racetrack, the business of bookmaking and pool-selling, registration of bets and the acceptance of bets.

Says Minors Made Bets. He also alleges that bets were accepted at the track from minors. Since June 16, the date when the breeders' law repeal became effective, it is alleged that the Delmar Club, through its agents, has continued to track horses has ever been given on the track as its charter authorizes and that no fair grounds has ever been maintained.

The Attorney-General asks that the club be ousted and the charter be declared forfeited and that all of its property, real and personal, be forfeited to the State.

ENGINE DERAILED,
FLYER SPEEDS ON

Fast Burlington Train Runs Quarter Mile With Trucks Hitting Ties.

TRACK ALONG THE RIVER

Weight of Great Locomotive Holds It on Rails and Prevents Wreck.

Passengers on the fast Burlington train from St. Paul to St. Louis, which was due at Union Station at 2:30 p. m. Thursday, had a thrilling experience, which evoked earnest expressions of gratitude for a safe delivery.

The train was making its normal speed—a gentle gallop—on a stretch of track which follows the windings of the Mississippi, about eight miles south of Hannibal, when the wheels of one engine truck left the track at the end of a curve, and the track moved along the ties in a line, making an acute angle with the rails.

A dense cloud of dust enveloped the cars and indicated to the passengers that something was wrong.

The engineer did not feel the jarring truck behind him at first, because of the great weight of his engine.

The train ran 300 yards, nearly a quarter of a mile, before coming to a stop, and at no time was any shock noticeable in the coaches.

When an examination was made it was found that two of the derailed truck wheels had sunk so heavily into the close-coupled train behind it, that a large number of ties were cut completely in two.

But for the weight of the engine in front of the tender and the right of the close-coupled train behind it, the cars must inevitably have left the track, in which event a twenty-foot plunge into the Mississippi was inevitable.

The passengers had ample time to look for the cause of the accident. They found the rails to be new, exceptionally heavy, and so well spiked that the entire track had moved as a solid framework two inches to the westward for nearly a fifth of a mile, by reason of the deep-cutting flanges on the untracked wheels.

But just at the end of the long curve, where the derailment occurred, the inside flange of the engine truck, which is bolted under the tie to hold the joint of the two rails rigid, and under the rapid movement, the wheels lifted sufficiently for the flange to clear the top of the rail.

What Caused Accident?

The accident was "clearly" due to one's negligence, as the closest inspection would not have prevented it. The long run of a derailed train, without mishap, was a splendid testimonial to the value of perfect modern railroad and train equipment.

The passengers, many of whom were St. Louisans, returning from the North and far West, were full of jubilation over their escape, and not a bit impatient over the delay of two hours, which was necessary to enable a wrecking train from Hannibal to get it out of the way. The train reached Union Station shortly after 5 o'clock.

PLOT AGAINST SULTAN

BUCHAREST, Roumania, July 28.—A plot against the life of the Sultan of Turkey has been discovered by the authorities at Kustentli.

A search of houses occupied by Turks disclosed large quantities of revolvers, rifles, cartridges and compromising documents. The Roumanian officials subsequently discovered cases of rifles hidden in the hold of a Turkish steamer now at Kustentli.

HELMETS, TEN CENTS EACH.

Supply Commissioner Boyce has arranged for the street sweepers of St. Louis to shine forth in a long parade in a few days and the cost will only be 10 cents a shine.

Boyce has bought 60 new white helmets for the men at a bargain sale of the United States Army's Commissary Department. The use of the helmets for dress parade has been discontinued by the infantry and helmets that formerly cost St. Louis $1.50 were obtained for 10 cents each.

SQUATTER HAS GUN;

BEFORE HANDCUFFED

Seized by Deputy Sheriffs After He Is Coaxed to Lay Aside Firearm When Party With Eviction Notices Is Attacked by Wife and Dogs.

The deputy sheriffs who are serving Sandy Hook squatters, on the east side of the river, with notices to vacate Wiggins Ferry property by next Tuesday, are meeting with defiance and firearms. One man, who defended his houseboat with a shotgun, was arrested this morning.

Everywhere the deputies are being told by the houseboat dwellers that they will fight for their homes next Tuesday when they are to be dispossessed, by force if necessary, of the sites which they occupy.

Ten in Party of Invaders.
The party of outsiders which left the East St. Louis City Hall at 9:40 o'clock was in charge of Chief Deputy Sheriff Charles Cashehl. It consisted of Deputies Cashehl, Mehling, Scherer, Williams, Schaefer and Philpot and Deputy United States Marshal Ward and Private Watchman Fahey and Kirby of the Wiggins Ferry Co.

They reached Sandy Hook, above East St. Louis waterworks, at 10:30, and first served writs on those whose houseboats were in the water and moored to the bank. They all agreed to move by next Tuesday.

The first houseboat visited on the bank belonged to a man named Franklin. He at first said he would not move. Then he said he would move if help was given him in getting his boat into the water and it was towed somewhere else. He was told that he would be helped into the water and a tug would tow him out into the river, but he would have to find a new landing place himself.

Then he said he would move if help was given him in getting his boat into the water and it was towed somewhere else. He was told that he would be helped into the water and a tug would tow him out into the river, but he would have to find a new landing place himself.

Dared Men to Come on Boat.
J. E. Neely, who has two or three houseboats and a carpenter shop, was standing inside the screen door of a new houseboat, set on stilts five feet above the ground, in which he lives with his family, when the deputies approached.

He dared the men to come on his boat, and said he would shoot them if they did. Cashehl told him they didn't want to come on his boat but wanted to serve him with some papers. Neely said he would take the papers. He opened the screen door and stepped out and took the papers from Cashehl.

At the same time he declared he would not move and dared the officers to molest his property.

Cashehl told him if he didn't move by Tuesday they would certainly molest his property.

"You might as well begin now," said Neely, handling his shotgun.

Raises Gun; Threatens Death.
Schaefer tried to climb up on the boat. Neely stepped out of the door and raised his double-barreled shotgun to his shoulder and pointed it at the group standing below.

"The first man who attempts to get on this houseboat," he said, "will be killed."

The deputies spread out and drew their revolvers.

"Now, Neely," said Cashehl, "I'll tell you this. We've got enough guns in this bunch to make your house look like a sieve. We don't want to kill your wife and children, but if you don't put down that gun you and your family will have to take the consequences."

Neely, who had partially lowered his gun, raised it again to his shoulder and said: "If you attempt to get on this houseboat I will kill you."

Neely Taken by Force.
"Neely," interposed Deputy Marshal Ward, "you are making yourself liable to be sent to the penitentiary. Why don't you talk like a man? Put down your gun and come out and talk with me."

"I am," said Ward.

Neely set his gun inside the door and stooped down to talk to Ward. Cashehl and Schaefer seized him and dragged him to the ground. Schaefer

SOCIETY AND CLUBMAN
IN JAIL, CONFESSES
TO CHARGE OF THEFT

William Tudor Wilkinson, Dressed in Height of Fashion, Causes a Sensation When Placed in Holdover, Accused of Stealing $125 Worth of Fishing Tackle.

PITIFULLY AGITATED, IS AT LOSS TO KNOW WHY STOLE

Arrested at Union Station, Where With Friend He Was Prepared to Leave on Fishing Expedition in Canada—Is Kleptomaniac, Think Chief Desmond.

Arrested on the charge of stealing, William Tudor Wilkinson, aged 35, society and clubman, was placed in the holdover at Four Courts Friday.

Big as a giant, fine-appearing and dressed in the height of fashion, with all the bearing of a young man of wealth, Wilkinson's advent at the holdover caused a sensation.

He admitted to Chief of Detectives Desmond that he had taken fishing tackle valued at $125 from the store of the Simmons Hardware Co., Broadway, that being the charge against him.

Pitifully agitated, though quiet, he confessed his guilt.

"I don't know what on earth made me do it! I wanted those reels for my fishing trip and I did not have the ready cash to pay for them. I cannot understand how I would allow myself to do it."

ARRESTED AT UNION STATION, WHILE EN ROUTE TO CANADA ON FISHING TRIP

Wilkinson's arrest occurred at the Union Station, where he was preparing to board a train for Canada, where he had planned an extensive fishing expedition. Detective Edward Schenck, who took him in charge, confessed the five reels wanted by the hardware company, when he found them in Wilkinson's baggage at the station.

The young man is the son of John C. Wilkinson of Kirkwood, a retired business man. He is a member of the Mercantile Club and of the Algonquin Golf Club. He has a bungalow at Woodlawn, a short distance east of Kirkwood.

His name is well known in society columns, as an entertainer and as being entertained by prominent St. Louis families. On his fishing expedition he was to have been accompanied by another well-known young man of St. Louis.

His arrest did not occur until the hardware company had missed several reels. He had visited the store a number of times to examine fishing tackle and had bought some articles.

When complaint was made to the police and Detective Schenck was detailed to the case, Wilkinson was one of the persons watched. He was caught in the act of taking a reel.

May Be Kleptomaniac.
That occurred Friday and the detective following him was led to the Union Station, where, with a friend, Wilkinson was ready to start on his Canadian trip. This friend, who is also a member of the Mercantile Club, was greatly shocked when Wilkinson was arrested, but did not accompany him to the Four Courts.

George D. Lyford, manager for the hardware company, identified Wilkinson.

After talking with the young man, Chief of Detectives Desmond said:

"It may be kleptomaniac. I cannot account for a man of his station doing such a thing, otherwise."

Standing back in his cell, away from the door, nervously picking at his finger nails until the flesh around them was raw, Wilkinson seemed to discuss his predicament.

"If the police have seen fit to make this public," he said, "I can only ask that it be treated as lightly as possible. I will not talk about it."

LABORER IS FATALLY INJURED IN PECULIAR ACCIDENT WHILE WRECKING BUILDING.

Riley Withrow, aged 22, 404 Easton avenue, was fatally injured in a peculiar elevator accident Friday.

Withrow is employed by the Schaefer Wrecking Co., working on a building at 1223 Washington avenue. He had gone to an elevator shaft to send the car up, it being then at the floor above him. His hand was out in the shaft as he pulled at the rope. He pulled the wrong way and the car dropped rapidly.

His head was struck and he was knocked to the floor, being pinned there by the car, whose further progress was stopped by his head.

When released he was taken to City Hospital, where it was found that his skull was fractured and all his teeth knocked out. The physicians at the hospital say he will die.

LONG LEASE ON SHAW GARDEN

In the suit brought by the Board of Trustees of the Missouri Botanical Garden against Attorney-General Herbert E. Hadley to settle the question of whether the terms of the will of the late Henry Shaw could prevent the leasing of certain property for 99 years, Judge McDonald in the Circuit Court ruled Thursday that the property might be so leased.

Mr. Shaw left much property in trust for the maintenance of the garden, and the first clause of his will provided that certain property near the garden should not be leased for terms longer than 99 years. The Supreme Court ruled later that in the case of the property in question this restriction was impracticable, but it was thought advisable to obtain a construction of the will on this point through a suit at law brought upon all the Shaw property.

Judge McDonald gave to the board authority to handle all property according to the best interests of the garden and the best interests of the trust.

CROOKEDNESS IN LIFE INSURANCE CO. SHOWN

Startling Report Made by New York Commissioner of Dealings of Mutual Reserve Life Association.

THIRD PARTIES BENEFIT WHERE SOCIETY SHOULD

Nearly $300,000 Diverted Which Belonged to Association—Receivership Suit Filed Against Equitable by Policy Holders.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 28.—Irregularities of a startling nature have been uncovered as the result of an examination of the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Insurance Association of New York City, made by Chief Examiner Isaac Vanderpool of the State Department of Insurance. Mr. Vanderpool's report was given out today. It shows:

That the commission of $277,696.67 paid by the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association for securing the membership of the Northwestern Life Assurance Co., located in Chicago, went to third parties and not to the Northwestern Life.

That the members of the Northwestern Life, reinsured in the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association, were kept in a separate class, and received no benefit from the $200,000 premium paid by them to the Mutual Reserve on account of the transfer.

That the Mutual Reserve Fund Life Association failed to pay promptly the valid claims against it, subjecting the beneficiaries to no little suffering and distress.

That they reported a so-called surplus of unassigned funds amounting to $29,115.58, which, upon examination, was reduced to $30,000.

That the amount of judgments against the company was concealed in its reports to the department.

That the unpaid death claims reported by the company are $53,000 less than the amount fixed by the examination.

That suit was filed in the United States Circuit Court this morning by J. Wilcox Brown of Baltimore, praying for the appointment of a receiver of the Equitable Life Assurance Society, a division of its surplus among the policy holders and a general accounting by the officers.

Purse and Negro Disappear.

When Mrs. Nellie Philpot, 4331 Page boulevard, employed Solomon Jefferson, a negro, to help her clean house, she says, she took her pocketbook from an upstairs room and hid it beneath a pile of pillows on a chair downstairs. Then she left the room for five minutes, she says, and came back to find both the pocketbook and the negro missing. There was $16 in the pocketbook when she held it, but nothing in it when it was found in a shed in the rear of the place.

The police say that Jefferson admitted taking the pocketbook when they arrested him. A warrant charging him with grand larceny was issued Friday.

Have You Seen This Smiling Miss, Who Phones But Won't Come Home

NELLIE McDONOUGH.

Nellie McDonough Left Her Home Because of a Scolding for Going to Park Without Permission.

Mrs. William Beneke of 5223 Minnesota avenue, with whom lived Nellie McDonough, the missing 15-year-old girl who has mysteriously disappeared, believes that Nellie is with some woman living on Franklin avenue.

"Nellie left my house May 29 because I scolded her for going to Mannion's Park without my permission," said Mrs. Beneke. "It was the first time I had ever found fault with her, but I chided her then for her own good. I intended to rear her as my own daughter and I was careful with whom she associated and where she went."

"A few days prior to this incident a strange woman called and asked for Nellie. After she had gone, Nellie told me that the woman wanted her (Nellie) to come and live with her at her home on Franklin avenue, the number of which I have forgotten, but which was in the central part of town. I asked Nellie if she wanted to go, and she said no, that the woman was poorly dressed and did not look as if she could even provide for herself."

"Nellie has a sister living with Mrs. Curry, and it is love for her sister that doubtless impelled her to telephone to Mrs. Curry. The father of the girls died about five years ago and the mother died one year ago, and then we took charge of the two sisters. Another sister is in an orphan asylum."

"I have heard nothing from Nellie since she ran away from my home, eluded by telephone or otherwise. I believe the girl is living with the Franklin avenue woman and probably has got work somewhere downtown. She has four brothers in St. Louis, but I do not know where they live."

DRIVER HURT UNDER WAGON

Two Teamsters Are Injured, One Seriously in Extreme.

In a collision between his wagon and a Spring car at Spring and Vandeventer avenues Thursday Henry Hartman, a teamster for the Anheuser-Busch Brewing Association, was seriously injured. He was thrown from the wagon, which was overturned, and fell on him, crushing him about the hips, arms, shoulders and knees. He is at the City Hospital and is thought to be internally injured.

Hartman is 27 years old and lives at 1212 and Hebert streets.

Another teamster, Pat Donnelly, of 3141 Thomas street, was caught between his wagon and the Wabash viaduct over De Baliviere avenue while driving a wagon loaded with wreckage from the World's Fair grounds Thursday and his back was badly hurt. His wagon was loaded so high that Donnelly was squeezed between the load and the viaduct roof in passing under. He was sent to City Hospital.

THE BUSY THIEVES.

Mrs. Mabel Wagner of 118 South Twelfth street, reported to the police Wednesday night the theft of several rugs from a house at 84 Walnut street, which she has recently fitted up.

Thieves entered the rooming house at 1623 Olive street Thursday and stole two suits of clothing, a gold watch and $5 in money from the room of Harry Finger. They also stole a dress suit case to carry the plunder in.

Clement A. Poole, stepson of M. A. Rutledge of 322 Minerva avenue, has reported to the police that robbers ransacked the house Thursday night during his absence. Nothing was taken.

MEN FOUGHT ON MOVING ENGINE

Foreman of Switching Crew Struck Workman in Self-Defense.

Edward Ely, 5323 Heber place, foreman of a switching crew for the Wiggins Ferry Co., was discharged by Judge Pollard of Dayton Street Police Court Friday on the charge of disturbing the peace of Ferdinand Stone, 2009 De Kalb street, a member of the crew.

A story of an exciting engagement was told in court. During an argument on the switch engine Sunday, while the engine was running at a mile an hour, Ely was told, Stone hit Ely with a lantern. The engineer stopped the engine and Stone jumped off and picked up a stone. Ely jumped down then with a coal pick. Seeing the stone in Stone's hand Ely hit him with the handle of the pick, knocking him down. Stone was stunned and that ended the fight.

The court held that Ely struck Stone in self-defense.

THE OLD FOLKS AT HOME

Are Never Without Pe-ru-na in the Home for Catarrhal Diseases.

Under date of January 10, 1897, Dr. Hartman received the following letter:

"My wife has been a sufferer from a complication of diseases for the past twenty-five years. Her case has baffled the skill of some of the most noted physicians. One of her worst troubles was chronic constipation of several years' standing. She was also passing through that most critical period in the life of a woman—change of life.

"In June, 1895, I wrote to you about her case. You advised a course of Pe-ru-na and Manalin, which we at once commenced, and have to say it completely cured her.

"About the same time I wrote you about my own case of catarrh, which had been of twenty-five years' standing. At times I was almost past going. I commenced to use Pe-ru-na according to your instructions and continued its use for about a year, and it has completely cured me."—John O. Atkinson.

In a letter dated January 1, 1900, Mr. Atkinson says, after five years' experience with Pe-ru-na:

"I will ever continue to speak a good word for Pe-ru-na. I am still cured of catarrh."—John O. Atkinson, Independence, Mo., Box 272.

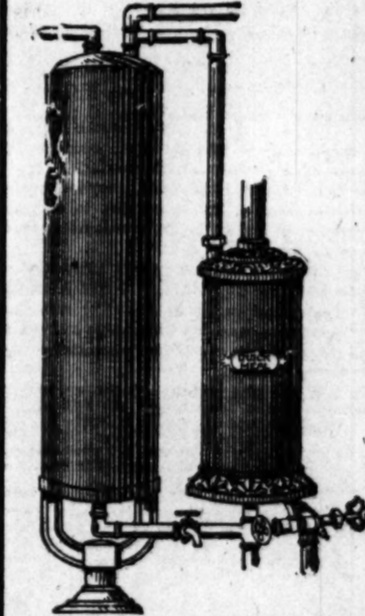

Mrs. Alla Schwardt, Sandborn, Minn., writes:

"I have been troubled with rheumatism and catarrh for twenty-five years. Could not sleep day or night. After having used Pe-ru-na I can sleep and nothing bothers me now. If ever I am affected with any kind of sickness Pe-ru-na will be the medicine I shall use. My son was cured of catarrh of the larynx by Pe-ru-na."—Mrs. Alla Schwardt.

When old age comes, catarrhal diseases come also. Systemic catarrh is almost universal in old people.

LEEVE BREAKS; MOREHOUSE, MO., IS UNDER WATER

Gasconade Rises Twenty-five Feet Over Night and Marais des Cygnes Twenty, Doing Much Damage.

PECOS VALLEY BRIDGES GO OUT NEAR CARLSBAD

Lightning Strikes School Houses, Barns and Straw Stacks—Joplin Rainfall for Week, Seven Inches.

MOREHOUSE, Mo., July 28.—The break in the levee of Little River is widening.

Already three feet of water are in the streets of Morehouse. More is coming in.

It is not expected that the Frisco will be able to run much longer. Its roadbed is not high and the water is on both sides of it.

Lumber mills and factories are shut down. Half the workmen in town are out of employment.

SPRING RIVER MOUNTS ABOVE FORMER HEIGHTS

JOPLIN, Mo., July 28.—Spring River keeps a-mounting. The rainfall of 3.37 inches was added to by a flood that came down Center Creek. It put up Spring River a foot an hour.

At Sarcoxie two miles of the Frisco tracks were washed away.

A bridge at Bower's Mill on the Spring River went down early this morning. Traffic on the interurban electric lines was interrupted for several hours and passengers were compelled to walk to the closest cities.

So heavy was the rain in the mining district that all of the streets and roads were damaged. The big pipe connecting Galena with the natural gas fields was broken and the mills were compelled to shut down there.

In some places mines caved in because of the weight of the water and its loosening effects.

This has been the wettest month in the recent history of Joplin. All together, 14.44 inches of rain have fallen.

GASCONADE CLIMBS UP 25 FEET IN ONE NIGHT

ROLLA, Mo., July 28.—The 25-foot rise of the Gasconade has done much damage to crops. A heavy rain last night accompanied by lightning put the Rolla electric lighting out of business and flooded the streets.

PECOS RIVER BRIDGES SWEEP AWAY BY FLOOD

ROSWELL, N. M., July 28.—While the Pecos Valley and Northwest are rebuilding the bridge washed out last week at Polk on the Penasco, a storm came yesterday that so flooded the Pecos that the railroad bridges south of Carlsbad, were carried away. This cuts off Edley, the county seat.

Bright little "Ray o' Light" will live, the solace of his widowed mother. The ravages which impure milk made on his tiny form are still apparent, but pure milk has given him the start for returning health. How narrowly he escaped. The margin was scarce wider than one of his own white hairs.

Nurses, the sweet sisters of helplessness at the City Hospital, rejoice. There beside a cot of pain "Ray o' Light" won his name. His smile and prattle there did more than medicine to help his father in a brave but futile fight. Those who have seen gloomy ward 15, where the mangled lie, can realize why William E. Elwaine called his baby boy "Ray o' Light." Caught in wheels of a giant machine he was being crushed, was twisted, a human top; then, fatally injured, was sent to the City Hospital to linger for weary weeks.

Each day "Ray o' Light," baptized William Edward Jr., danced down the aisles of pain, cheering others, suffering, too, till he reached his father's cot. His little fingers caressed his father's face. Like the Master's touch it vanquished pain. Elwaine could not move his limbs. They were buried in a plaster coffin. Only his head seemed alive, eyes to follow the smiles of Ray o' Light, ears to hear the baby prattle and lips to hold the baby's kiss.

"Why don't you come home to baby, Papa?" was the message Ray o' Light meant when he would tug at his father's bound arms. Mrs. Elwaine could hardly bring him away.

Papa came home (home was 1101 Ohio avenue) one sad day, and Ray o' Light wept because his mother did. He was the widow's solace. When he sickened and pallor drove the rose hue from his face, a few weeks after his father's death, Mrs. Elwaine was terrified. She knew not what to do. Poor tiny Ray o' Light wasted away. He did not cry much, brave little chap he was. He would not take a tablespoon of the dairy milk that filled his bottle. It was pushed away as soon as it was offered. Milk from the grocery store, milk said to be from the farm was tried. Baby refused to eat it. He lived on barley water. Day and night his strength faded. Mother love could not combat the effects of impure milk.

Carrying him in her arms, what a light burden he was. Mrs. Elwaine brought him to a doctor. "He must have pure milk. He'll die on the swill he's been getting," the physician commanded. He had little patience with mothers who do not understand what milk to give babies. Then the doctor prescribed pure milk and told the woman where the nearest station of the Pure Milk Commission could be found.

Once again Ray o' Light smiled and prattled. He is recovering and is almost strong enough to grasp his pure milk bottle from his baby sister Josephine, who likes it so well that she steals it when she can. The meals that Josephine eats from the table haven't robbed her of an appetite for the milk that is pure and good.

In many a St. Louis home there is a "Ray o' Light" whose health is falling because of the milk he drinks. It is to save those babies that the Post-Dispatch is appealing in behalf of the Pure Milk crusade for funds. Can the man of means, whose own little "Ray o' Light" is sturdy and strong refuse to succor these babies in need?

CAR HITS COW ON TRESTLE.

Rear Trucks Derailed and Panicked Almost Results.

While running at the rate of 20 miles an hour a Creve Coeur Lake car while returning from the lake Friday morning ran over and killed a cow on a trestle near Delmar Garden south of the Olive street road. The cow had wandered onto the trestle and its legs were fastened between the ties. The passengers were thrown violently from their seats into the aisle and the car store the nearest station of the rear trucks were derailed. The motor man did not see the animal until too late to stop the car.

DICTIONARY LED TO FINE OF $100

Judge Tracy Declares That Quarry Company Is Operating a Quarry.

On the strength of the dictionary definition of a quarry, Judge Tracy in City Hall Police Court Friday decided against the Atlantic Quarry and Construction Co. in the case brought against it by the Terminal Railway Association, charging it with operating a quarry in violation of a city ordinance. The defense was that the company was merely doing grading. In view of testimony that deep pits had been created and of the definition given in the dictionary as to what a quarry is, corresponding to what the witness said existed on Atlantic street, the quarry company was fined $100.

The case was brought in furtherance of the efforts of the Terminal company to have Atlantic street vacated.

Japs Rescue Germans.

TOKIO, July 28, 2:30 p. m.—The Japanese Navy Department announces the rescue of the crew of the German steamer Cecile, which is aground off Cape Fatience, Island of Sakhalin. Four Germans, two British subjects, one Norwegian and 2 others were saved and taken to Okaru, Japan, on July 28. The rescue was undertaken at the request of the German Minister here.

SECOND LICENSE IS NOW REVOKED

Two Saloons at 801 Franklin Avenue Permitted Gambling.

Excise Commissioner Mulvihill Friday, after hearing evidence against Peter Baehr, saloon keeper at 801 Franklin avenue, announced that he would revoke Baehr's license because gambling had been permitted on the premises.

Baehr succeeded Cicardi & Mussey, whose license was revoked because of gambling, an exposure of which was made by the Post-Dispatch, leading to the revocation. Detectives of the gambling squad testified that they found a poker game in progress on the second floor of the building. In the former case a crap-shooting game was conducted on the third floor.

NOTED PHOTOGRAPHER DEAD

Carbutt, of "Dry Plate" Fame, Expires in Philadelphia.

PHILADELPHIA, July 28.—John Carbutt, known to photographers the world over, is dead from Bright's disease at his home in this city, aged 73 years. He was skilled as a chemist, and made scientific photography his life study. Photographs of the presidents of America chose him as their first President. In 1879 he perfected his widely known "Carbutt dry plate," which revolutionized the trade.

POLICE INTERRUPT FOLK DISCUSSION

Men Wrangling Over Merits of Governor Mistaken for Bold, Bad Burglars.

A woman employed at 3221 Connecticut street saw two men standing on the corner of that street and Justine avenue at 10 p. m. Thursday pointing at various houses in the neighborhood.

Certain that they were planning a wholesale burglary she notified her employer. In turn he notified Night Chief of Police Gillaspay, who in turn notified

Lieut. English at the Magnolia Street Police Station. In turn he notified the patrol wagon driver. Together Lieut. English and Policeman Barrett were driven to the scene. The two men were still talking on the corner and waving their arms about.

"I tell you, sir," said one, "Gov. Folk has a perfect right to send the St. Louis police out into the county to suppress lawlessness! He is doing exactly what he should do, and I'm proud of him!" "And I tell you, sir," replied the other, "that he is exceeding his power, and if I lived in the county I would resist such an infringement on the county's rights. Even the Governor of a State must respect the rights of others, sir!" Whereupon Lieut. English stepped forward, interviewed the two men, found that they were residents of the neighborhood and so reported to Night Chief Gillaspay.

PLAN TO CONTROL SPEED OF AUTOS

Glencoe, Ill., Builds "Bumps" At Crossings Over Which Machines Must Go Slow.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
CHICAGO, July 28.—The auto problem has been solved by Glencoe, Ill. It is simple. Just make the fast-going machines "bump the bumps," and there you are.
Glencoe does not put it any such crude way. It is simply going to "improve" Sheridan road. This "improvement" is to consist of a six-inch bump at every crossing and the motorists who attempt to "take the jump" at these points will be punished. The Glencoe village board believes more than any one else that the auto is a menace. Work on the bumps was begun yesterday. They will be made of brick and will be six inches high at the highest point. On each will be a sharp edge that will make it easy for the wheels to get over, provided they are running at a moderate rate, but which will have a tendency to shake the occupants some distance into the air if taken at high speed, and make them dangerous.

Woman Attacked by a Dog.
With a hand satchel for a weapon, Mrs. Elizabeth Lucas, aged 28, was attacked by a large dog, which was running through Gambel Park Friday afternoon. The dog fastened its teeth in her left leg and did not release its hold until she had it off with the steel.

RHEUMATISM ROBS LIFE OF PLEASURE

Rheumatism does more than any other disease to rob life of pleasure and comfort. It is so painful and far-reaching in its effects on the system that those afflicted with it find themselves utterly unable to enjoy bodily comfort or any of the pleasures of life. Some are bound hand and foot and suffer constantly with excruciating pains, swollen, stiff joints and muscles, and often distorted, crooked limbs, while others have intervals of freedom, during which they live in constant fear and dread of the next attack, when, at the least exposure to damp weather, or slight irregularity of any kind, the disease will return. The cause of Rheumatism is the acid condition of the blood, produced by food lying undigested in the stomach, poor bowel action, weak kidneys and a general sluggish condition of the system. External applications, such as liniments, oils, plasters, etc., do not reach the cause and can only give temporary relief. The blood must be cleansed and purified before a cure can be had. S. S. S. attacks the disease in the right way—it neutralizes the poison and filters out every particle of it from the blood, stimulates the sluggish organs and clears the system of all foreign matter. It cures the disease permanently and safely because it contains no harmful minerals to derange the stomach and digestion. Book on Rheumatism and any advice you wish, without charge.

FRISCO HOSPITAL TO COST $94,800

Employees' Hospital Association Applies to Commissioner for a Building Permit.

The Employees' Hospital Association, organized to establish a hospital for the Frisco railroad system, applied to the Building Commissioner Thursday for a permit to erect the necessary building at 400 Laclede avenue. It will be four stories high and will cost $94,800. The movement is under the direction of General Solicitor L. F. Parker of the Frisco.

Asks Police About License.
Did Mr. Dollar object to giving Mr. Hart the heart of his young daughter, else why, ask the police, came the telegram from Columbia, Mo., asking if Miss Dollar had secured a license to wed Mr. Hart? The license was issued Thursday, and the next wife of Peter Dollar will probably find a Mrs. Hart.

300 GAMBLERS GOT INTO COLLINS' NET

New Chicago Police Superintendent Arrests 84 Book-makers in Four Hours.

CHICAGO, July 28.—Fully 300 men, arrested by Chief Collins and his flying squad last night were in Police Court this morning. The whole town of Chicago was sitting up and taking notice, as the new chief said they would when he got his hand in. And he was not long in getting it in.
"He's a busy busy," laughed the Judge as he looked down at the throng arranged before him.
Spectacular raiding of handbook makers, in which 84 men were taken prisoners in four hours' work, marked John M. Collins' second day's work as General Superintendent of the Chicago Police Department. Then at night came dozens on 10 poker games.

Following out his starting action of Wednesday evening, when he interrupted several time-honored poker games, the new chief yesterday removed Assistant Chief Schuetz from the command of the gambling detail and took personal charge himself, announcing at the same time that he would hold his inspectors responsible for whatever gambling was discovered in their districts.
Armed with search-warrants and sledge hammers, the raiding party had terrorized the gambling fraternity during the night, raiding 10 book-makers and 10 "clubs" were made before midnight. The paraphernalia, or that part of it left intact after the onslaught of the raiders, was confiscated.

SHOOTS WIFE AND ANOTHER.

Ashley, Pa., Man Then Attempts to Kill Himself.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WILKESBARRE, Pa., July 28.—Finding William Vivian of this city in his wife's room at 4 o'clock this morning, William Ashley shot her and then shot himself. Although the bullet entered his wife's head, she recovered and is now recovering in a hospital. The cause of the shooting was a quarrel over a small sum of money.

INJUNCTION IN ELECTION CONTESTS

Supreme Court Stops Proceeding in Cases of Wells and Other Democrats.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 28.—L. W. Hagerman, a St. Louis attorney, today secured from Judge Leroy B. Valiant of the Supreme Court in chambers a writ of prohibition directing against Circuit Judge D. S. Taylor and the Board of Election Commissioners of St. Louis, forbidding any further action in the contested election cases of Rolla Wells, John J. O'Brien, Mark Ewing, Bernard Dierkes and James Hagerman. The writ issued by Judge Valiant was made returnable Tuesday, Oct. 10, and the case will be heard and determined upon its merits.

JUDGE THANKED FOR DECREE

Mrs. Jesse A. Hosford Wedded After Three Weeks, Then Repented Leisuredly.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 28.—"The best favor you can grant me will be never to meet me again," said Mrs. Jesse A. Hosford to R. W. Hosford of St. Louis when Judge Parker restored her maiden name and granted her $1000 alimony.
Hosford had told his former wife he would do anything for her at any time she was in need.
Mrs. Hosford thanked the Judge profusely. She had married after a courtship of three weeks and her first suit was denied by Judge Evans, who believed in making a lesson of her case so that quick marriages might be discouraged.
She is the daughter of S. C. Hinde, an implement dealer at Perry, O. T. Her mother and father testified in the divorce trial. Mr. Hinde said he did not see Hosford until after the divorce, and that he told him he had $1000 acres of good land in Colorado.
The young man borrowed $5000 from him, said which he never returned. Mrs. Hinde said that Hosford had not returned $1000 from her after the marriage, and did not return a cent of it. That was all the money she had.

SCHOOL CHILDREN DROWN.

Wagon Overtakes in a Swollen Missouri Stream.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
SPRINGFIELD, Mo., July 28.—James Campbell was helping school children across Pomme de Terre creek in a wagon capsized and six little girls and a girl named Betson drowned. The others were rescued by the heroic efforts of Lucy Womack. The bodies were recovered one mile down stream.

Boys Steal to Pay Debts.

In order, as some of them said, that they might pay their debts and as others said, that they might have a good time, a number of boys living in the Ashley Building, Third and Fenton streets, took nine bars of lead from a car of the Terminal Railway Co. It was valued at $25, but the boys got much less than that when they were caught by the police. The boys are now in the juvenile court, where they will be sentenced to the reformatory for a period of six months.

NEWS OF THE SPORTING WORLD

ONLY TWO TENNIS MATCHES PLAYED

Playing of St. Louis Team Is Feature of Preliminary Events.

KANSAS CITY, Mo., July 28.—Only two matches were played in the Missouri Valley tennis tournament this morning, both of these on the indoor courts at Convention Hall. The first was between Herbert Jones of this city and Paul Oberndorf of Centralia, Kan. Jones, who by many is expected to win the tournament, had no difficulty in defeating Oberndorf. He won in love sets. The other match was between J. A. Trille and James Purnham, both of Kansas City. Trille won 6-2. This afternoon the tournament was moved to the athletic club's oval, the doors having become dry enough for play.

LEAPS FROM BUGGY ONTO CAR FENDER

Girl Jumping After Collision Carried Several Yards, but Not Hurt.

Miss Jennie Dunham, an East St. Louis girl, jumped from a toppling buggy to the fender of a street car, Thursday night, and was not hurt. With Miss Jennie and Lydia Stone, who was sitting in the buggy, the latter girl's residence, Eighteenth street and Exchange avenue, when the buggy collided with a street car. The buggy was overturned and the girls were carried several yards before the car stopped, but found she was unhurt when she recovered from the fright.

HIT BY HER OWN TORPEDO

Dynamite Cruiser Vesuvius Fires One Which Comes Back and Hits Ship.

NEW YORK, July 28.—There is an old saying about "Holt's" own pet, but "Holt's" by its own torpedo is a new way of putting the same thing. It seems impossible that a vessel could fire a torpedo and have it come back and hit the very vessel from which it was fired, but the thing has happened. The Vesuvius is the vessel which made the record. She was out to fire torpedoes, and it is to be presumed that every precaution was taken to start the torpedo right.
One was fired and went straight to the target. The second one was fired and went straight to the target. The third one was fired and went straight to the target. The fourth one was fired and went straight to the target. The fifth one was fired and went straight to the target. The sixth one was fired and went straight to the target. The seventh one was fired and went straight to the target. The eighth one was fired and went straight to the target. The ninth one was fired and went straight to the target. The tenth one was fired and went straight to the target. The eleventh one was fired and went straight to the target. The twelfth one was fired and went straight to the target. Hedges Not in Favor of a Twelve-Club League

"The report that a movement is being launched to establish a twelve-club American League next season by effecting an alliance between the National and American Leagues may be true," said President Hedges of the Browns Friday morning, "but I do not believe that it will materialize."
"Personally, I am very much opposed to such a consolidation, as, I believe, is every other manager in the American League. Owners of the money-making teams in the two organizations realize that were they to sanction the consolidation plan there would be no barriers against the entry of a new club. A twelve-club league was tried and proved a flat failure."
In a twelve-club organization there are too many tail-end teams, and before the season is half over from four to six clubs are practically out of the race and interest peters out in the cities in which these teams are located. Another thing, the leading clubs are made to suffer, simply because they

Druggists Are Defeated in Big Charity Game After Hard-Fought Contest.

True to their promise not to be daunted by the weather, the Physicians and Druggists baseball nine played their much-talked-of game Thursday afternoon at League Park and amused some 2000 fans, who went out to be amused and also to contribute their share toward the First-Dispatch Pure Milk Fund. The game was a hard-fought one, in which the proceeds were donated.

WESTERN GOLFERS PLAY IN THE WET

Pitched Remarkable Game.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
HUNTSVILLE, Ala., July 28.—Pitcher Lively of Huntsville pitched a remarkable game here Thursday against the Gallatin, Tenn., team. So effective was his work that his opponents did not get a hit off his delivery. He allowed no bases on balls, struck out 17 men and shut them out without a run.

Jumpers May Meet.

WEYMOUTH, Mass., July 28.—Louis Guerin, the well-known professional jumper, has accepted the sweeping challenge just issued by Robert H. Baker for a match series of events for the world's championship at $1000 to $5000 a side. Baker claims the professional championship of the world, and Guerin claims the all-around jumping championship. As he says he has not $5000 to put up he is willing to jump any man for the gate money, winner to take all.

England and Scotland to Play Football Here

Picked Team From Abroad Will Ennage in Contest for International Championship—Games Scheduled for September 30 and October 1.

St. Louis will witness two of the series arranged for the first international football contests ever played. The All-England and Scotland United Football team will play against a picked team of St. Louis in this city Sept. 30 and Oct. 1. The British team will tour the country for match games played for the cup offered by Sir Charles Cochran for the winner of international championship contests. The association game will be played, not the Rugby game, best known in America.

POST-DISPATCH NEWSBOYS, NO 19

FRED KICK, 4008 FAIRFAX AV.

At the northwest corner of Vandeventer and Finney avenues may be seen every day Fred Kick, Post-Dispatch newsboy, who says he likes to sell the Daily Post-Dispatch because it "goes fast." Fred is 15 years old and is one of the large company of Post-Dispatch newsboys that rush forth daily from "Billie" Shuttleworth's big Post-Dispatch branch, 301 Finney avenue. Every boy is a record maker at this branch, and Fred stands high among them. He is a comparatively new Post-Dispatch newsboy, having begun the work only last October. The natural tendency for the Post-Dispatch to "go fast" has been augmented by Fred's hustling qualities, and as a result he is now earning $6 a week from his sales. Fred will be a winner. He is saving and has accumulated $70 so far. He is in the Sixth Grade at the Riddick school and likes to study grammar. He first started to sell papers by helping a Post-Dispatch newsboy who was selling for Shuttleworth, and last October became a Post-Dispatch boy himself.

WOMEN GIVE AID TO HORSES.

Water and Straw Bonnets Provided for Working Animals in New York.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.
NEW YORK, July 28.—Teamsters driving down Wall street today saw something they never saw before.
In front of the Erie Railroad office, at No. 104, stood two tubs on the curb, one labeled, "Water your horses, bide a wee," and the other "Bide-a-wee Home for Animals; branch A." Beside the tubs, which were filled with cold water, stood Mrs. Margaret Carter, who lives at 277 Fifth avenue, her arms full of straw sunbonnets for horses.

Mrs. Carter is the most enthusiastic worker of a group of society women who are interested in ministering to dumb animals. The society cares for stray dogs and cats until good homes can be secured for them. During the recent hot weather, however, the society did what it could to alleviate the sufferings of horses as well.

Arrest Bellboys After Robbery.
Joseph B. White of Greenville, Miss., reports to the police that he was robbed of $20 in money and $20 in jewelry at the Portland Hotel Tuesday evening. James White and Walter B. Garrett, bellboys, have been arrested in connection with the complaint and the police are looking for Effie Cook, sometimes called St. Clair, who, White thinks, committed the robbery.

Too Much Athletics Kills Kerr.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
EL PASO, Tex., July 28.—As a result of over-indulging his athletics while a student at Columbia University in New York, Arthur T. Kerr is dead here. In a cross-country run in February, a thin, frail, he contracted cold which developed into tuberculosis.

Roosevelt Congratulates Father.
Special to the Post-Dispatch.
WASHINGTON, July 28.—David Tolstoi of this city has received a letter from the President congratulating him upon the recent birth of a child in his family.

Mr. Tolstoi is the father of 12 children, 10 of whom are living. The twelfth was born last week and Mr. Tolstoi communicated the fact to the President at Oyater Bay. The living children include four boys and six girls.

We Continue To-Morrow Our Great Sacrifice Selling of Men's and Youths' Suits at

The integrity of this store is the safeguard of every purchaser; truth is the foundation upon which this modern institution rests. By sound methods, dependable merchandise and greater values we've established a leadership among Western clothiers. To carry no goods over is a principle here—new stocks in the fall is a paramount issue. To this end we're sacrificing lot after lot of higher grade suits at $8.50—we're making a clean sweep—we're not considering cost, profit or former selling prices. We invite consideration of these exceptional after-season offerings—the most desirable, the most reliable and the most remarkable clothing values ever submitted to the people of St. Louis. There are thousands to choose from, made of worsteds, chevots and cassimeres, in all the latest shades and colorings—regular and outing styles—single and double-breasted—in a complete range of sizes for men and youths of every build. See them displayed in our Washington Av. and Seventh St. windows.

LEGAL PROMOTERS OF RASCALITY.

In Cardinal Gibbons' interview upon corruption and money madness is this pithy sentence, emphasizing President Roosevelt's recent rebuke of lawyers who sell their talent and learning to those who want to devise means of plundering others with impunity:
"Clear and palpable dishonesty itself is shielded behind barriers cleverly constructed by the brightest legal minds in the country."

Justification has always been found for lawyers who accept criminal or civil cases, regardless of their moral merits, on the ground that persons accused of crime or sued in court ought to have the best legal counsel necessary to obtain fair hearings and the rights to which they are entitled under the law; but what justification can be found for a lawyer who for money devotes his skill and talents to the devising of schemes and methods of robbery which enable dishonesty to evade the letter of the law, or in finding loopholes by which criminals can persist in crime but escape the legal consequences, or in using their knowledge and acumen to make legal technicalities an instrument of terror to those who would expose and punish crime? Surely the lawyer who devises a safe scheme of plunder, or who protects criminals in the commission of crime shares the moral guilt of his clients and is an enemy to society.

Such protests as those of President Roosevelt and Cardinal Gibbons have been brought out by the glut of information of enormous fees paid to lawyers for promoting and protecting rascality. No community of large population and wealth need go beyond its own borders for examples of leading lawyers, some of whom have been honored with election to the bench, who have turned their honorable calling to dishonorable purposes and who stoop to pick up tainted money by selling their services to dishonest schemers and defiant criminals.

No profession has higher ideals or standards of ethics than the bar. It claims to be the guardian of justice. Is it not time for the members of the bar to give their ideals the force of reality and to bring their practices up to their standards?

The Western Union ought at least to be consistent.
It ought not to keep the wires open for St. Louis gamblers and close them to the New York poolrooms.

INSANITY AND LOVE LETTERS.

A young soldier of the legion, who lay dying (of love) in Oyster Bay, is being tried for lunacy—why?
Because he insisted on writing a love letter every day to Miss Alice Roosevelt.

What a blow to the gallantry of our young men!
What a slam at the charming qualities of our young women!

One love letter a day and insane? What of those devoted swains who wrote two, three, four love letters per diem to their Dulcinea del Toros, and telephone just as often as they have nickels to spend for toll at a public station or the office phone is not busy?

One love letter a day and insane? What would "Princess Alice" think of herself, and what would her friends think of her, if she were not able to inspire at least one love letter a day at the hands of any admiring young American, known or unknown to her in her proper person?

A lunatic? Is it not better to be a lunatic than a lump of clay? Not to be inspired by "Princess Alice"? Not to be inspired to emotional thoughts by the "First Girl" of the land?

Tut, tut! Even granting the suspicions of the guardians of the fair Alice, has not the observant bard assured us that "all those who truly love are half insane"? If this young man, admiring the lovely Alice, is to be set upon by a lunacy commission, may it not as well consider us all a little bit touched?

If the Governor is a "Stoerfried" and a "Spiel-verderber," as represented by the German press, there can't be much hope for him.

HOW TO GET TO FAIRYLAND.

Countless girls are living in the hope of getting to Fairyland. In Fairyland a handsome young Prince always comes along, on a champion steed with a golden bridle, and bears away the heroine to live an idyllic life.

Hilda Miller of Los Angeles, Cal., got to Fairyland.
She was busy one day, like Cinderella, baking pies in the kitchen. The kitchen happened to be attached to a restaurant. Into it there entered a Prince, in the guise of a successful miner. He had just cleared up $47,000. Being hungry and fond of lemon pie, he ordered a piece. It had been made by Hilda. So good was the pie that Harvey—Prince Harvey, of course—ate three more pieces and then asked to see the pie baker. The rest of the story exactly corresponds to the usual fairy tale.

It will be noted that Hilda Miller got to Fairyland by doing her best. She did not sit and sigh because she was nothing but a cook in a restaurant.
She did not exclaim a dozen times a day that life was not worth living. She made good pies. And all in good time the Prince came along and sampled them.

However much the Governor may love any other county official, he will never kiss Kiskaddon.

THE POWER OF PUBLICITY.

Commercial corruption, political corruption, the corruption that exists in the government itself, cannot survive exposure. For this reason we must all look to the press, the argus-eyed agent for good that is always vigilant, and that is daily becoming more powerful in seeking out evil in high places.—
Cardinal Gibbons' interview in Thursday's Post-Dispatch.

Have you noticed how personal we are getting these days? Stories about persons, stories of human interest, are now demanded by everybody. And the coming Sunday Post-Dispatch is full of them. The true story of a little St. Louis boy in chains is thrilling. How a Kansas girl's kiss saved the wheat crop is funny and romantic. A St. Louis prima donna who is spending her vacation farming suggests an unusual but agreeable variation in holiday attractions for women. Over a thousand people missing in St. Louis every year; Old Fashioned Steamboat Races Revived; a new Raffles story; Latest Explanation of the Sun Spots; Impositions St. Louisans Endure; the Woman's Page; New and Strange Things; Pretty Summer Garden Girls, and other new and interesting features make an issue of the Sunday Magazine that is well adapted for home reading.

INEFFICIENT AMBULANCE SERVICE.

The case of Magdalena Thieser emphasizes what the Post-Dispatch said a day or two ago in regard to inefficient ambulance service and lack of preparation by the health Department for prompt aid to the sick and injured.

Miss Thieser had taken carbolic acid in O'Fallon Park, in an attempt to end her life. She was placed in an ambulance, which was then driven for seven miles to the City Hospital. She died just before reaching there.

The common-sense method of dealing with this case would have been to have a medical attendant in the ambulance prepared to administer remedies on the spot. Antidotes for the well-known poisons, as well as surgical instruments, lint, bandages, etc., should be carried on every ambulance. No doctor in private practice makes his calls without taking with him such equipment as he thinks the cases may require, especially in cases of poisoning or accident involving surgical work.

If no medical man accompanied the ambulance sent for Miss Thieser it was a gross piece of neglect. There are plenty of drug stores and other places near O'Fallon Park where she could have been attended and given such care and remedies as might have saved her life.

Is it red tape or inefficiency, or both, which makes such barbaric blunders possible?

Good men will never bet on the verdict of a county jury.

"BLINDS AND BUFFERS."

One of the remarkable disclosures resulting from Attorney-General Hadley's investigation of the operations of the Standard Oil "System" in Missouri is the prevalence of a strictly modern method of operating through "blinds and buffers."

In the case of the Standard Oil System, the "blinds and buffers" are subsidiary corporations it has organized often out of the wreck of competing companies. They are under its control and it combines them and combines with them to suit its own purposes.

Extensive as the Standard Oil System is, the use of blinds and buffers is not confined to it.

Wherever a secret purpose of fraud or law-breaking is to be served, the "blind and buffer corporation" can be organized, and it is organized, to commit the fraud systematically, to violate the law systematically.

If public indignation is aroused, if the law is to be vindicated, the force of the law is deflected to the "blind" or the "buffer," while the managers of the "parent" corporation which works thus give out, through its attorneys or otherwise, statements of the care it takes to make its acts legal.

This method obviously means irresponsibility at its climax. If such a method can succeed permanently, there can be no such thing as permanent power in law to which all are equally answerable.
Under this method, the answer offered to the law's prohibition of fraud in one form is fraud in another form and more complex form.

Gov. Douglass will not run again for the government of Massachusetts because he is afraid he may be forced to accept the presidential nomination and be prevented from retiring to private life. Yet men have found a presidential nomination a short cut to retirement.

It is said that the admirer of Miss Roosevelt who has been writing love letters is not quite ripe enough for the insane asylum. The same thing is said of many lovers.

The policeman of the twenty-first century—if any policemen are needed then—will wear a shirtwaist and a cool, ventilated cap in broiling summers.

The temptation to get $100,000,000 or more a year out of the stamp tax annoyance will be so strong that Congress may renew it.

The Chinese merchants of Shanghai and Hong Kong are searching for the chinks in our commercial armor.

its tail.

What weather wix doth know?
What bard can sing?

What will the temperature
Tomorrow be?
Who can forecast for sure
The hour of 3
P. m. this very day?
Ah, yes, who knows, we say?
Who in this wise gaze?
Surely not we!

LETTERS FROM THE PEOPLE

The Pen vs. the Ponies.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

When first the Post-Dispatch began its great crusade in behalf of all good people against the turf gamblers, the letter may have considered it more of a joke than anything else and continued,
"How high and how low will they be in their vocation, expecting all the while —how very foolish they were—the dear public to stand by them and the whole strut to blow over. But, thanks to the people's tribunal, it was not long ere they must have realized they were "up against it" with no avenue for escape.
Line had not come at the time set for the growing powers of a righteous press, that has the best interests of the public at heart. The Post-Dispatch warned these racing robbers to flee from the wrath to come, but they just laughed in their sleeves and persisted with their "cut-and-dried" show to the disgrace of the State, and the humiliation of all good citizens.

The Post-Dispatch leveled its big guns
in the direction of Delmar race-track, and after taking deliberate aim, fired a bullet of shot and shrapnel into the sams of the common enemy, and repeated the dose several times, whereupon the white flag was run up, and the betting practically ceased. The head men of that skin game will have to be content to stand by and watch the out of reach of the Post-Dispatch, if such a thing be possible. The Post-Dispatch has a reputation for never "beating about the bush," and never calls a spade "an agricultural implement indispensable to a practical husbandman."
It is one paper that has no secrets, as carefully and always prints the cold, unvarnished facts, as upon investigation, they are found to exist, and as demonstrated by its irrefragable attack on the Delmar crook extravaganza.

Weeds Neglected.

Along with a majority of our laws may be classed the so-called "weed ordinance." Last Sunday, during church hours, one industrious lot owner was engaged for three hours destroying, or delaying the growth, on his lot and so escaping a possible fine. Nine other lot owners on each side of him, though they were agents signs on some lots (two or three), say no attention to the notices. Excuse, owner in Europe, left no funds to cut weeds, etc. It is not possible to have maximum fine assessed and form a lien on the lot, same as a sprinkling tax unpaid? These weed overgrown lots are the breeding ground of mosquitoes and other pests; in fact, they are a nuisance to the city, and ought to be same to remain outside after sunset.

Exterminate the Rats.

To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The writer notes the article in today's issue of the Post-Dispatch giving as news the presence of large numbers of rats in Cabanne.
That Cabanne has not before been made the subject of illustration and remark because of an army of rats, I believe, is to be attributed to the fact that in any other city I have ever lived in or visited.
The Post-Dispatch would suggest a week to be specified "Rat Week," urging residents to devote a certain amount of time to the extermination of rats during this week in the places frequented by these pests, this concerted movement might result in a very material decrease in the rat population.

CASEY THE COP

The Lid on the County Troubles Him.

"SOP shovelin' thot coal," commanded Casey,
the ladies' cop, to the man who was unloading a few tons of black diamonds into a coal hole in front of an office building near his corner. "Don't ye see that purty girl in the white dook suit thyrin' to get by ye? Is ye workin' fur the Chinnymins as runs the laundry?"

"So Kiskaddon has quit his job because they say the county is lawless," remarked Casey, as he turned to pass the time of day with his friend, the reporter. "Well, maybe he is right. Fur meall I can say thot I was out to Creve Coeur one day and came back alive, but thot's sayin' nothin' about the story I put up to the old lady as to how I lost twenty-avain again the shill game. Av coorse thot is only a family matter and don't interst the gineril public.

"But it's funny how he puts it up about Hergel not havin' the dough to buy dippities to arrest the offenders agin the law and thin kiks whin Mat-chew Kieley sinds the byes from the city out to hly him without ixpense to the county." It seems to me—

"A jewelry store, lady? Go wan block and sivin-eights wist, thin turn and go three-eighths north," directed the officer who had acquired the vernacular of the brokers on his beat, who measure the distance between affluence and hard times by the figures on the stock ticker.

"And Kiskaddon says it is a political play of Joe Folk. Well, maybe it is, but it is my experience that a man may violate the law for a long time and have it overlooked, but whin he keeps slappin' it in the face of the people that he don't care fur the law, it is only a matter of time before he gets thrippin' up. There do be more honest min than crooks and even the honest citizen will make a kick fur an arrest sometimes.

"Say, thot is a fine bid," said Casey, as he pointed to a brass slumber couch in a window on the corner which had been marked down to $178. "If I had thot in me house I would sleep on the flure all night so I cud see how purty it is."

Love Lady

By IVAN WHIN.

A Chronicle of a Girl Who Conquered.

CHAPTER V.

BUT Wesley was not to be. Dr. Calvin, big, rosy, the embodiment of joyous life and perfect health, was caught in a tangle of street car and flying hose cart while driving hard to serve a patient said to be dying. His buggy was splintered and his skull crushed. There were other injuries.

He lingered a month fighting with all his vitality against the inevitable and then they laid him away with notable pomp.

Mrs. Calvin suffered under the blow as only a woman who has loved completely can suffer. Lightly was her ideal man and lover and death seemed so far away from him that she had never considered its certainty.

The neighbors said Love Lady was cold and indifferent. All the management of affairs fell upon her and she took the responsibility with cool gravity, shielding and protecting Kind Lady with jealous care. But in the chamber where the stricken woman lay moaning for her lost mate, Love Lady unlocked her heart and comforted the woman.

They had lived well, for the doctor's practice was large, but he accumulated little property. The Lucas avenue house, a few stocks of doubtful value and some insurance was the sum of his estate. When the time came for considering the estate Love Lady had mapped their future.

"You must move to a cheaper house and rent this," she told Kind Lady. "And I must go to work for my living. We don't need a big house now that Mister is gone. A very little flat will be enough."

Mrs. Calvin yielded to Love Lady's management.

"But what will you do?" she asked weakly.

"Teach. I have a gift for it." Let us now, as the theater programs sometimes advise, imagine that five years have passed.

Mattie Dwyer and Willie O'Brien are graduates from Washington University. Mattie is to be a missionary in China and Slugger is a civil engineer.

Love Lady teaches in a public school and sees little of her old friends.

It is a big, new school and the principal is a roly-poly man whose pink cheeks and white curled mustache, florid and fashionable clothes seem suited to one of his profession. He is a bachelor because he could never choose between all the attractive women he knew. He was known as a heart-breaker for his attentiveness to the fair ones; but his attentions never went beyond the stage of platonic friendliness.

Principal Kitchen was attracted to Miss O'Hare the first day she was assigned to his school. Her calm surety in her own ability charmed him, her big iris-hued eyes and her wealth of golden brown hair completed the conquest. He made many occasions for conversations with her, for personal supervision of her work and lengthy discussions of its details.

In the beginning she did not suspect him, but thought him kind and helpful—an excellent superior officer, who believed it to be his duty to guide and aid where a stricter man would blame and harrow.

But Mr. Kitchen's invention of excuses for conversation flagged as his interest in this unique girl grew. The more he talked with her the more he loved her. He now felt himself to be guilty where a stricter man would blame and harrow.

But Mr. Kitchen's invention of excuses for conversation flagged as his interest in this unique girl grew. The more he talked with her the more he loved her. He now felt himself to be guilty where a stricter man would blame and harrow.

Not even when O'Hare, visiting his daughter, was taken to school and introduced to Kitchen did the principal pause in his wooing. He was beyond the point where ancestral defects would afflict him.

"Your daughter, Mr. O'Hare, is a remarkable teacher. Her intelligence and tact are very extraordinary. She will have a great future."

"Yes, sir," said O'Hare, with exaggerated meekness, "she takes after her father, sir."

"Quite so," said the principal, impervious to jokes, but wondering if it were not possible that this red, little Irishman had not stolen Love Lady from the cradle of a princess and popped in his own ill-favored cub.

O'Hare had become an evangelist, preaching against liquor. He compelled Kitchen to sign a pledge and pinned up on his coat a badge indicating the wearer's determination to confine his libations to the crystal font where bubbles no orphan's tear and whence is wafted no widow's sigh—a font fed, as O'Hare would have you believe, by streams of joy, brewed in the everlasting hills and flowing freighted with the promise of sweet days and calm nights, long life and peace at its ending.

When you have it given you in that style, Mr. Kitchen, you have to sign something to show your appreciation of true genius.

O'Hare's incidental occupation was boathouse keeper for a yachting club on Lake Michigan and Love Lady took Kind Lady there in the summer that she might be near her father.

He taught her to sail a canoe, to paddle and even allowed her to steer a big yacht that he was sent to Chicago to bring up to the club.

A cook and a boy were the only hands on board, an ample crew for the short run in fine weather. Off the club the owner met them in a launch and came aboard.

"Who's that you got at the wheel?" he demanded of O'Hare.

"That's my daughter, sir," said the boathouse keeper with all the pride of Brian Boru.

"Your daughter?" the young man's eyes questioned O'Hare on this astounding statement. "She looks as little like you as I do."

"That may be, sir, but there's no reason to doubt that she's my daughter."

"Introduce me."

O'Hare was proud to comply. He made it a ceremony of importance. "Love Lady, my child," he said, "I make you acquainted with my noble young friend, Arthur Sterritt. He owns this yacht and a pile of others."

"How happy you must be," she said by way of greeting.

"Why?"

"Owning this yacht and having so many other possessions that you don't have to worry about a livelihood and have no cares to interfere with the pleasure of sailing wherever you wish."

"But I have many cares."

"No, they are limitations, conjured out of an idle mind."

"You're wrong there. I'm not idle. Last year I built a railway. This year I am building several towns on the railway."

He drew a deck chair near the wheel and sat down for a friendly chat while she obeying her father's commands steered the yacht in to her mooring place.

Arthur Sterritt was not a rich man's son. In fact his father had been very poor, and although in his last days he achieved some measure of prosperity he was able to do little for his son beside providing means for his education.

But Arthur was fortunate. He possessed a keen mind, and the faculty of seizing upon opportunities. All his friends called him lucky and in some measure he believed that the stars were in fortunate conjunction over him at birth. He left college to do things and had done several so well that at 28 he was possessed of a comfortable fortune.

His railroad and town building in Wisconsin promised to make him very wealthy. As he told Love Lady he had cared, but they were not worth him down. He never seemed oppressed, absorbed or hurried, but always had time for his pleasures.

Martha Goodrich, who tried to attach him to her generously long string of conquests, called him "the Fairy Prince."

After the yacht was moored Sterritt took off Love Lady in his launch. At the landing step they met Miss Goodrich gay in the most summery of gowns and sparklingly glad to meet "the Prince." Sterritt introduced Love Lady.

"Where are you staying?" Miss Goodrich asked, wondering who this steady-eyed, grave beauty could be.

"At my father's cottage," Love Lady replied.

"Indeed, I didn't know that any cottage here was owned by a family of your name." It was only idle curiosity that impelled Martha to pursue the subject.

"My father is the keeper of the boathouse and lives in the club's cottage," said Love Lady simply. She knew Miss Goodrich's point of view and was prepared for the flash of something very like scorn on this fashionable girl's face, but that point of view did not disturb her own. O'Hare pulled up in his boat, tied it to the slip and walked down to them.

Love Lady put an arm through his and talking lovingly of their happy trip went on with him to his home.

Miss Goodrich and Arthur Sterritt looked after her in silence until Martha, turning saw the intensity of Sterritt's gaze.

"You seem interested in the boathouse keeper's daughter," she drawled provocatively.

"Yes," he said, "I shall marry her."

REFUSED TO GO TO CHILD'S FUNERAL

Starts When Threatened and Then Has Two Brothers-in-Law Arrested.

Get out! I'm disgusted with you and do not wish to see you in this court again.

Judge Pollard to Plaintiff.

Two boys, who had threatened to whip their brother-in-law if he did not attend the funeral of his own child, were fined $5 and costs by Judge Pollard of Day Street Police Court Friday. However, the Court stayed the fine and delivered a rebuke to the father of the child, who had refused to attend the funeral, that must have been much more painful than paying the fine would have been.

Frank and John De Long, aged 17 and 19 years, respectively, 1219 North Fifth street, were the defendants and Frank Wallace, a news agent, Market and Second streets, the plaintiff.

Wallace said that the young men had come to him and asked him to come to the funeral of his own infant child, he being the husband of their sister. She was sick, they told him, and wished him to come back to her. He had left her several months ago, he said.

He refused to go because it would involve his paying the funeral expenses, he knew. Then, he said, the boys told him they would beat the life out of him if he did not go. He went with them.

On the way he met a watchman at Eighth street and Franklin avenue. He told the watchman of the boys' threat and he summoned a policeman, who arrested the boys.

After fining the boys and staying the fine, Judge Pollard rebuked Wallace in severe language for his refusal to go to his wife at such a time.

WESS AGAINST MAJ PAYS HIS FINE

After Helping Convict, His Friend, He Saves Him From Workhouse.

Alexander George, 278 Franklin avenue, after testifying against a friend in the Dayton Street Police Court, Friday, paid the friend's fine to save him from the Workhouse.

When Judge Pollard fined Hensel, the latter prepared himself for a trip to the Workhouse, but George, who had helped prove him guilty of the charge, produced the amount necessary to save him the ride.

AMERICAN IS KING OF A BRITISH ISLE

Wm. L. D. Cary, Sovereign of Calif. of Man, Arrives at New York, Going to California.

By Leased Wire From the New York Bureau of the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 25.—An American king, possessing and holding over a miniature domain, arrived yesterday on the steamship Teutonic.

He is William L. D. Cary, of middle age, with iron gray hair and mustache.

His kingdom is an island within the United Kingdom, yet, strange to say, this realm within a realm pays no taxes to the British crown.

South of the Isle of Man lies this tiny sovereignty, called the "Calf of Man." The Calf has a coast line of five miles. On the island are 300 acres, of which 150 are under cultivation. Generations ago this little came into possession of the ancestors of King Cary. At a critical point in a great battle one of the Cary ancestors held his own shield over the head of his king, thereby preserving the crown. The chivalrous soldier was severely wounded. In recognition of his service the Calf was conferred upon him and his heirs forever without taxes.

Farmhouses are on the island and also a castle. The population consists of 50-odd souls. One of King Cary's tenants is an American millionaire. There are two lighthouses, which until last year were maintained by Trinity House, but the "King," in order to make his sovereignty complete, purchased them and has since maintained them at his own expense.

Great Britain attempted to tax the island, but the present owner's father, who distinguished himself at Sebastopol, went before Parliament, proved his title by the original deeds and fought as strenuously as his ancestor who used his shield to protect the King. He showed that the island was exempt from taxation forever, and won his case, the territory being declared free and independent of British sovereignty.

DUAL LIFE SAYS MRS. MACOY NO. 2

Chicago Theatrical Promoter Accused of Maintaining Two Households.

CHICAGO, July 25.—Divorce proceedings have been commenced against Eugene H. Macoy, the wealthy President of the National Printing and Engraving Co., and a well-known theatrical promoter. He is charged with having two wives.

It is intimated by Mrs. Mary T. Hill, Macoy's third wife, that a third woman has been deceived into believing that she is the defendant in another divorce suit. What wife No. 1, who is at her summer cottage in Paw Paw, Wis., will do is not known here.

The suit, filed against Macoy, in which his wife asks for the restoration of her former name, asserts a remarkable dual existence.

For six years, it is alleged, Macoy supported wife No. 1 and his three children by this marriage in lavish style, while he lived with wife No. 2, keeping each one in ignorance of the other.

Wife No. 1, it is said, was literally forced on trips to California, Europe and Mackinac Island, while wife No. 2 was informed that her husband had divorced his first wife. It is declared that Macoy never introduced his children to wife No. 2, but still kept her in the truth.

When at last Mrs. Mary Macoy discovered that her husband had deceived her, she began suit for divorce against him before Judge Brantley, waiting an adjudication of the charges, Judge Chinlin has restrained Macoy from disposing of his property, valued at $500,000.

Earl H. Macoy, associated with his father in the engraving business, yesterday denounced the divorce suit as blackmail, although he acknowledged knowing nothing of the facts in the case. He said his wife had been deceived, where she owns the National Printing Co.

Elizabeth Macoy, who, with her daughter, Kath, lived at the Auditorium Annex during the winter, is in the country. The third child is Eugene H. Macoy Jr.

SALMON BANK INQUIRY.

Attorney General Hadley Will Help Before Grand Jury.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

JEFFERSON CITY, July 25.—Attorney General Hadley has been requested by Prosecuting Attorney Hinkle of Clinton, Henry County, to assist him in investigating before the next grand jury the failure of the Salmon Bank of Clinton.

Mr. Hadley wired Mr. Hinkle this morning that he would be glad to assist wherever the jury is called.

Mr. Hadley's Women's White Canvas Suit, $2.50, at $1.50, at Bonham's.

PIRATES OFF TAMPA.

San Francisco, Cal., July 25.—The United States Government has been asked to run down the American ship Robert Center.

She is laden with wine and pick cargo. She cleared from Tampa, Fla., Jan. 1, and has not been heard from since.

With American sailors associated with the Center's men on shore at Tampa, it is feared they induced the men to run away with the ship and turn pirates.

SWIMS FROM TRAIN IN FRESHET; BRIDGES IN WAY FOR PASSENGERS

St. Louis Mail Clerk, Hero of Cloudburst at Piedmont. Mo., Taking Off Hobo from Telegraph Pole and Constructing Pontoon to Coaches.

St. Louis friends of Wilson Davenport, a postal clerk on the Iron Mountain road, residing at 4374 North Twentieth street, have just learned how he was the hero of a washout caused by a waterspout near Piedmont, Mo., last Friday morning.

Davenport saved the life of a tramp who was stealing a ride, then swam through the swift current from his train, which was marooned on the bridge, walked two miles to Piedmont to get a relief train and directed the building of the bridge upon which the passengers walked to shore.

Former Senator Cockrell was among the passengers. While the train crew knew of Davenport's heroism the fact concerning it was not made public until the report of the washout was received at the headquarters of the Eleventh district of the railway mail service in Port Worth, Tex.

His account of the washout is as follows: "Dawn was just coming when we reached a bridge across a stream near Piedmont, where the washout occurred. Ordinarily that stream is narrow and flows with little force.

"We were not looking for the rushing river that bore down upon the engine. I saw the engineer and fireman running for the mail car and I opened the door to let them in.

"I had no sooner done so than the engine and tender turned over. The river that bore down upon the engine. I saw the engineer and fireman running for the mail car and I opened the door to let them in.

POST-DISPATCH'S RECORD OF MARKETS AND FINANCE

BUSINESS SENTINEL TO ADVANCE THE MARKET

Buying Is General Throughout the List and the Close Is Near the Best, and Shows Substantial Gains for the Day.

Special to the Post-Dispatch.

NEW YORK, July 25.—Prices continued to favor the bull force at the opening of the stock market today, trading being on a liberal scale and gains being general throughout the entire list.

Sentiment abroad is still favorable to our securities, and this was reflected in the slightly higher range of values and over from London this morning. The London settlement ends today and no financial troubles of any kind have developed. Japanese and Russian bonds are still steady featured in the foreign market.

News over night is mixed, crop reports on the whole continue favorable, but the spreading of the yellow fever in the South is decidedly an adverse factor and is liable to receive more attention from market followers in the near future.

PRICE MOVEMENTS.

The market showed a degree of breadth and animation which it has lacked for some time, although the principal active stocks kept their gains.

There was a general advance in the price of the principal active stocks, but the market was not without its share of fluctuations.

BEARS IGNORE NORTHWEST REPORT

Grains Decline Steadily Despite Unfavorable Reports From Experts on Wheat.

Speculators ignored everything with a Northwest letter Friday, but they did not do any very extensive trading to show their contempt of crop experts and black rust. Jones gave out a long, detailed report; Watson was king all the wheat. Snow found more rust and the market went down.

The routine news was bearish except rain in the threatening district and the Northwest. The weather was cool and windy with the rain, however, and the last feature was not encouraging to rust.

Receipts were very heavy. Cables were especially weak on corn, slightly off on wheat. Argentine shipments were heavy. At times during the day the pit was deserted and trade was not active even early and late. Minnesota corn had a very weak market. Corn got another setback.

Wheat went steady at 82 1/2c and early held above 82c and eventually reached 82 1/2c, the high mark. Then the decline was steady to 81 1/2c and the close, Dec. opened 81 1/2c and gained 1/4c for high. The low was the close, 81 1/2c.

Sept. corn opened 1/4c down at 50 1/2c and sold at 50 1/2c and 50c. Closing at 50 1/2c. July oats sold at 24 1/2c and 25c. Thursday's close was 25c sellers.

Argentine shipments were a bearish influence abroad, especially corn. The figures: Wheat, 2,400,000 bu. this week, 2,000,000 bu. last week, 1,700,000 bu. last year. Total since Jan. 1, this year, 8,000,000 bu. this week, 7,000,000 bu. last year, 1,900,000 bu. last year. Total since Jan. 1, this year, 9,000,000 bu. last year, 1,900,000 bu. last year.

Primary movement: Receipts—Wheat, 1,200,000 bu. against 87,000 bu. last year, 400,000 bu. against 240,000 bu. last year, 600,000 bu. against 280,000 bu. last year. Wheat, 400,000 bu. against 240,000 bu. last year, 600,000 bu. against 280,000 bu. last year.

Wheat held steady on the cash market, despite very heavy receipts. The price was steady at 82 1/2c. Corn was firm, but oats sold at lower prices. The wheat receipts were a real surprise. Local movement: Receipts—Wheat, 1,200,000 bu. against 87,000 bu. last year, 400,000 bu. against 240,000 bu. last year, 600,000 bu. against 280,000 bu. last year.

LOCAL STOCKS IN FAIR DEMAND

Browns Are Active and Steady, but Other Traction Issues Lower.

Trading was fairly active at the session of the local stock exchange today, but the price movement was irregular. Some outside inquiry was noticeable in the general list, and Third National Bank stock was in good demand, although no sales were made.

Brown's subscriptions were the active feature in the traction list, $400,000 worth going at steady figures at $4. United Railways common was easier at $23 1/2, and the preferred issue up changed at $20.50. United Railways $4 were in fair inquiry at $23 1/2 and $24. In the bank and trust list no sales were recorded, and prices, with the exception of Third National Bank, showed little change on the call.

GREAT REMOVAL SALE OF PIANOS NEARING END

Kieselhorst's "Forced to Move on Short Notice" Piano Sale Is Now Nearing the End—August 1st Is the Date of Removal, and

NEW STORE NOT READY FOR OCCUPANCY

Kieselhorst Company Simply Say Come and Take One of These Nice Pianos At Almost "Cut-in-Half-Prices," on Your Own Terms. The Company Prefers to Put Them Out in This Way

RATHER THAN PAY EXPENSE OF STORAGE

Today and Saturday are practically the last days of this great sale. Monday is our removal day, but we are endeavoring to have the owners of our present quarters allow us to remain here until Wednesday of next week.

At this writing we have no encouragement from them; they say the work of tearing down this building is all arranged to begin just as soon as we can get out August first.

Could we have two or three days of next week in this building we know we could close out every piano and piano-player we have at the cut prices we are offering them, and not have to store a single instrument.

But if the piano should be taken today—Friday—and tomorrow, as they have been for the past three days, we'll sell off most all the stock any way.

So we advise an early call on the part of all those who would like to secure the advantages of this sale.

BEST PIANOS IN THE MARKET. We offer at this sale our entire stock—not a few undesirable styles, but our entire stock, because we must move by August first, and our new location will not be ready and we don't want to store any of these goods.

Here are the famous Kimball and Hallett & Davis pianos, Crown, Knabe, Cable, and other Pianos, such as Chickering, Leslie Bros., Steinway, Vose, Sterling and other makes. Most all the stock is entirely new, those that have been used in the leastwise are priced accordingly.

Uprights as low as $87.00; some of them never have been out of our store since coming from the factory.

Splendid uprights for $137. High-class Uprights, worth $300, $350 to $400, to close at $165 and upwards.

Your terms will be our terms.

You just come and see. You'll miss the best piano opportunity of a lifetime if you don't attend this great sale.

PIANO PLAYERS AT HALF. Numerous piano players, comprising several leading makes, to close at half and less.

Good piano players adjusted to your pianos, and $25 worth of music included for $90, $110 to $140, worth $250 the world over. Easy payments to suit your convenience.

INSTRUMENTS FOR BEGINNERS. Fine square pianos at your own price and terms.

Now, on our third floor and at this sale you can find a nice instrument that will do splendidly for your little ones to learn on. Come out in the evening. Bring the good wife and all the children. Will keep our store open evenings until 9:30 for the special benefit of the work-a-day people.

SQUARE PIANOS AND ORGANS. $2 A MONTH—A number of square pianos and organs to be given away. All we charge for is the repairs.

It would be almost a shame not to come and get one of these square pianos and organs for that little girl or boy of yours. These square pianos and organs that have been used have been put in fine playing condition and they are marked to close at $8, $10, $18 to $23, for almost new ones. Terms $2 per month or 50 cents per week.

And then numerous other square pianos and organs for $27, $31, $43 to $50. Terms $2.50 monthly.

If you need an instrument at all come and see us right away, and come before the best bargains are taken. Remember we are open evenings until 9:30.

ST. LOUIS GIRL IN ARTIST'S ROMANCE

Miss Angela Reston Wedded to Enoch B. Vedder, Whom She Met in Paris.

HONEYMOON IN ITALY

Bridegroom, New York Architect, Is Son of Famous Painter.

The marriage of Miss Angela Reston, daughter of Mrs. William Lund Reston of St. Louis, to Enoch Roskran Vedder of New York, was the culmination of a pretty romance of two artists.

The bride is an artist of exceptional talent and the bridegroom, son of the famous American painter, now living in Italy, is an architect.

They met and formed an attachment while both were studying in Paris.

The marriage in New York Thursday evening was quiet. It was solemnized at the residence of the bride's sister, Mrs. William Myron, Dr. Justin Steer of St. Louis, uncle of the bride, gave her away. Only immediate relatives were present.

Mr. and Mrs. Vedder will sail Saturday for the island of Capri, in the Mediterranean Sea, where the groom has a summer home.

W. L. Reston, father of the bride, was a prominent musician of this city several years ago. Miss Reston graduated from the Convent of the Visitation and then went to Paris to study painting. During the three years she spent there she became acquainted with Mr. Vedder, who was studying architecture.

Their engagement lasted a long time, since both wished to succeed professionally before the marriage took place.

Vedder has taken a prominent place among architects of New York and his bride has attracted considerable attention by her work with the brush.
